ATRIA CELEBRATES 24 CARING STAR AWARD WINNERS
2025 Award Determined by Online Reviews from Residents and Families on Caring.com

Louisville, KY (December 9, 2024) – Atria Management Company, LLC (Atria), is proud to announce that 24 communities from their Atria Senior Living and Holiday by Atria brands have been honored with the 2025 Caring Star award. The award is based on reviews from residents and their families on Caring.com, a senior living referral service.

“Our goal is to offer seniors an environment where they have the support and community they need to thrive, live purposefully, and maintain their independence,” said Melanie Bedell, Vice President of Sales for Atria. “The benefits of this reach far beyond our doors, impacting the wellbeing of our residents’ families and friends. We are honored to have so many communities recognized by Caring.com based on the positive feedback from the people who drive our mission.”

Serving Residents and Their Families

Older adults are living longer, healthier lives than previous generations. Yet nearly 80% of adults over age 65 are living with two or more chronic conditions, impacting their ability to perform essential daily activities and increasing their isolation. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor of Statistics, millions of Americans are filling in these gaps for their loved ones, often on top of full-time jobs and raising children.

Senior living communities are a space that can benefit the entire family. Residents have the company of their peers and programming designed to their interests and abilities. With meals, housekeeping, and transportation provided, time with family can focus on connection.

“If I could give more than 5 stars I would,” says a resident’s daughter in a recent review on Holiday Golden Oaks’ Caring.com profile. “The staff is absolutely amazing! The residents are so caring and watch out for each other. Everyone in this building is my new family. The food is delicious and the perfect amount for your loved ones. I look forward to every visit with my dad. Being a part of this place has made my dad and myself so happy.”

The following Atria Senior Living and Holiday by Atria communities received the 2025 Caring Star award. Communities marked with an asterisk (*) received the Caring Super Star award, an acknowledgement that they have received the Caring Star award for three or more years.
