

Atria Patchogue Life Guidance® Neighborhood

A dynamic social environment for people living with dementia, Atria's Life Guidance neighborhood fosters resident engagement with personalized support from specially trained staff. From dining and gathering spaces to welcoming common areas, every detail is designed to help residents feel right at home.

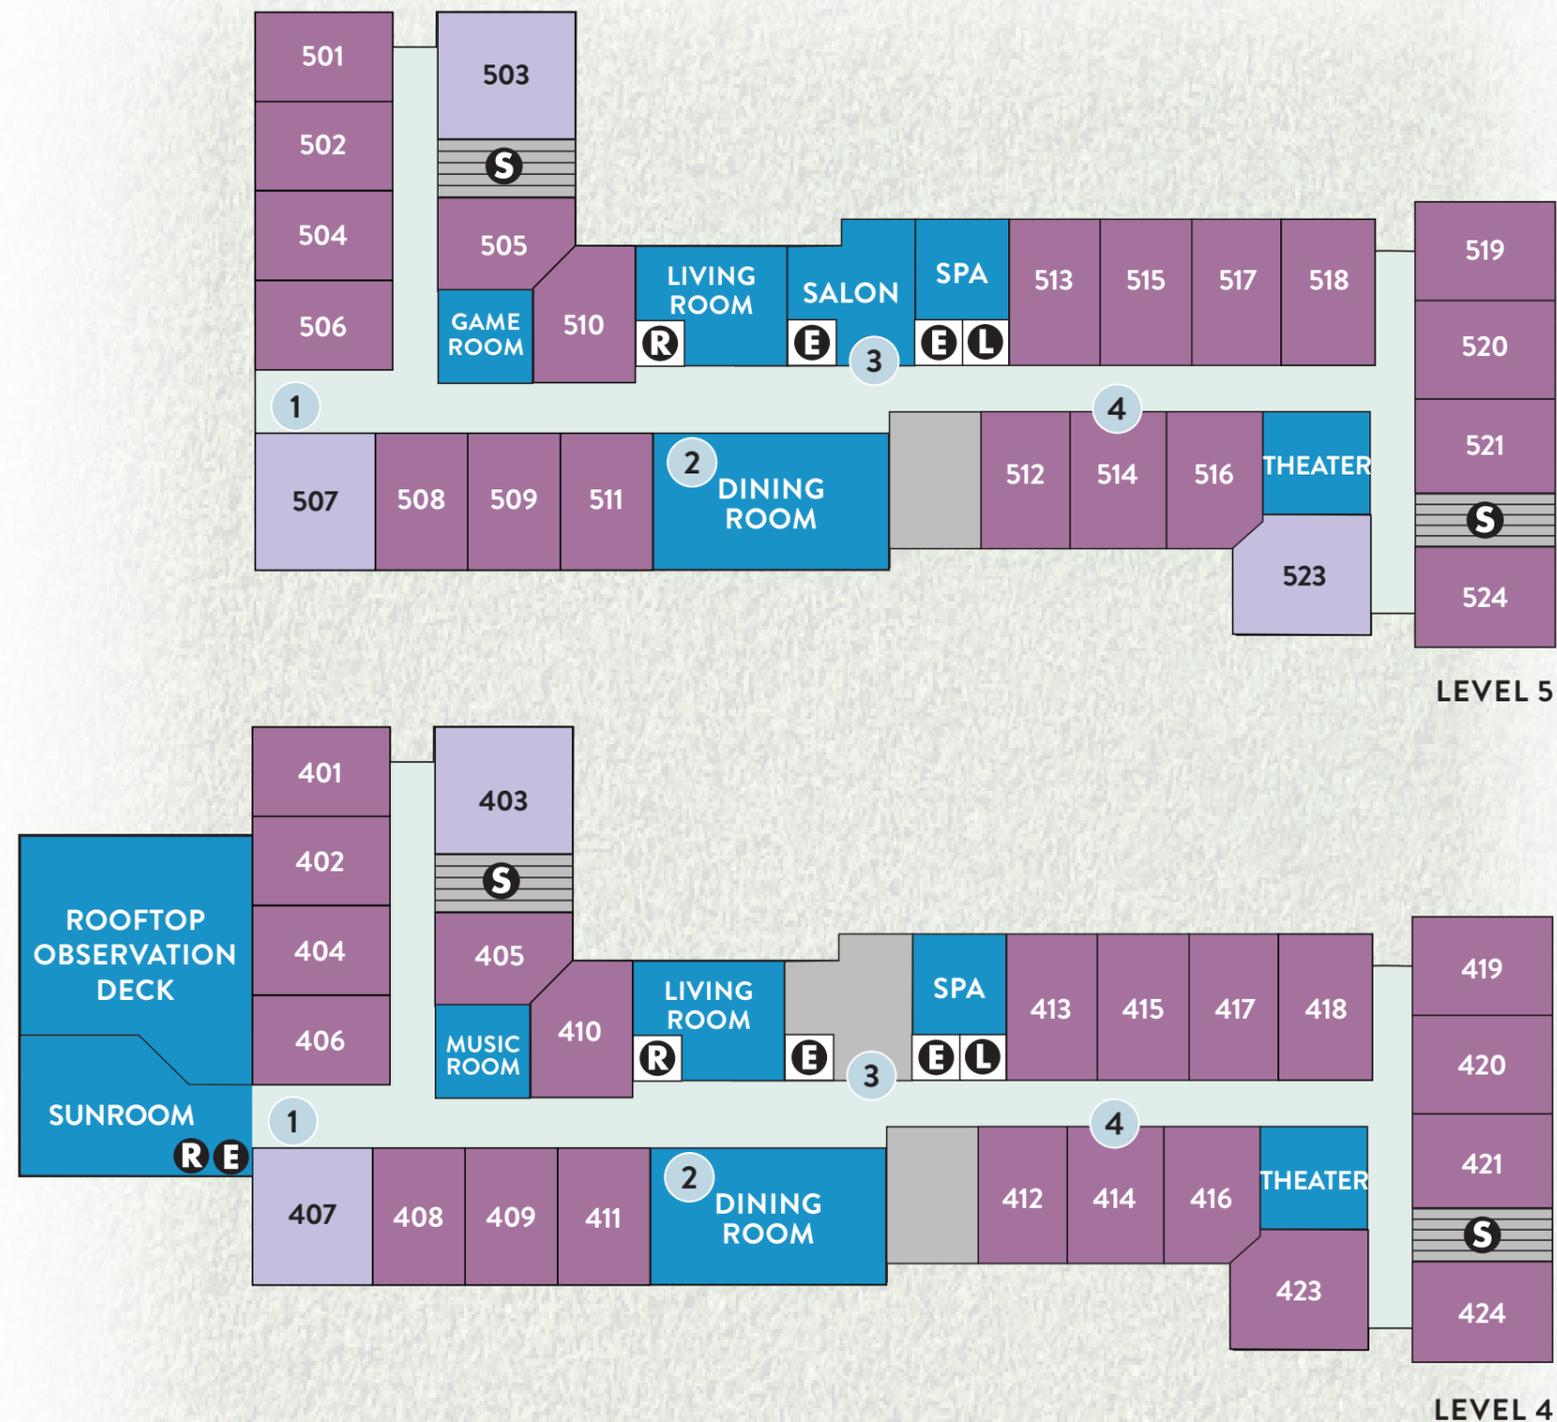

1 OPEN, COMPACT FLOOR PLAN

Large spaces can be disorienting for people with memory impairments. The intimate size of the neighborhood helps residents navigate their living space and naturally engage with neighbors while eliminating confusion.

An open floor plan offers clear sight lines for staff, which is important for resident safety. Long hallways encourage indoor exercise.

2 DINING ROOM

The communal dining space encourages social connections, while the aroma of food preparation from the adjacent kitchen stimulates appetite.

3 SECURE ENTRY AND EXIT DOORS

All doors leading in and out of the neighborhood are locked and secured 24/7 to prevent wandering.

4 PERSONAL MEMORY BOXES

Shadow boxes located outside each apartment contain keepsakes and photos to help residents locate their space.
