

Comparing the Costs of Senior Living

AFFORDABILITY

CARE LEVEL

SERVICES & AMENITIES

55+ Apartment

Rent from $600 to $2,650/mo.

generally more affordable for seniors who need no assistance

no care services offered typical offerings include things like fitness centers, social events and maintenance

Independent Living Community

Rent from $1,800 to $6,000/mo.

generally more affordable for seniors who need minimal assistance

some care services often offered on-site by third-party providers communities often include things like meals, fitness centers, social events and maintenance

Assisted Living Community

Rent from $3,300 to $8,000/mo.

a balance between independence and support, with higher costs for added services offers moderate care, suitable for those needing regular assistance communities provide daily living support, meals and health services

Nursing Home

Rent from $7,900 to $9,100/mo.

generally the most expensive due to the high level of medical care provided provides comprehensive care for those with significant health needs offers extensive medical and personal care, along with rehabilitative services

Home Health Care

Part-time care up to $5,720/mo.; full-time care up to $10,000/mo.

offers flexibility but can become costly if extensive care is required; added costs of living at home

can range from minimal assistance to full-time medical care services are customized based on individual needs and preferences